

Letter 01
Prologue
2011-07-11

Dear Dan,

It seemed good between the Lord and me to write a letter to you, to let you know what has transpired since the last time we saw each other, and to tell you of the current mercies of the Lord, and to console you with the truth. If memory serves me well, we saw each other last at Denny's at dinnertime, along with (CS3), not long prior to the Lord taking my father home to be with Him on 29 October 2007.

I have much to communicate about many things, which if I sent it all in one letter, it would be too long. So, please allow me to send a prologue in this document, with more to follow. The enclosed table of contents will of course be subject to much change as I consider what to write. I have wanted many times to try to arrange a meeting with you for this purpose, but the Lord says "NO". However, I may write to you in this manner.

Please, I ask, do offer me as much patience as you may, since I seem to have bursts of energy to do things like write, while at other times I am "treading water".

I will send these letters on an OPT-IN basis only. If you want to receive them, just send the enclosed post card back to me. For now allow me to say that the Lord never fails, and that our failings don't count (if we repent), and that greater is He that is in us than He that is in the World.

The Lord sends you His greeting, along with His angels that accompany me. PraiseTree is good; and Gabe and Gabriella are well. And others...

Peace, Mercy, Grace and Love be upon you and all your house in all things.

(Name redacted)