DREAM
The Balloon Guy
2021-12-25

Dear Yeshua,

Friday, 3 December 2021, 4:32 AM

I woke up at about 3AM from a dream.

I DREAMED THAT:

I was with a guy, and I held in my hand the strings to a bunch of Party Balloons filled with Helium.

The guy wanted to do something with the Balloons, but we were outside, and I didn't want them to fly away.

Straight ahead in front of us was a building which looked like an older Gas Station, with a snack bar inside.

I indicated to the guy that he could do what he wanted with the Balloons, but he had to do it inside the Building so they wouldn't fly away, because I wanted to keep the balloons. The guy wanted to place them around various places to celebrate his birthday or something.

So, I went inside the Gas Station with the Balloons, and let them go free to float up to the ceiling. I wasn't worried, since the strings were real long, making it so that I could retrieve the Balloons without any trouble.

END OF DREAM.

Post Dream Analysis Says That:

All throughout the dream I kept hearing the name "Pete Buttigieg" repeated in my mind. I went back to sleep after waking from the dream at 3AM, and continued to hear that same name repeated over and over in a second dream. I woke up again at 4AM, and both times I woke with sore shoulders, and was tired.

I got out of bed and got my coffee going, and then sat down in the TV room with my first cup. I opened up my iPad to a news source, and then I see a news article about the U. S. Secretary of Transportation Pete Buttigieg having the Department of Transportation indoctrinated with Critical Race Theory.

According to the Lord Holy Spirit, the guy in the dream was HR, so he's "history", compliments of ROE-3.

Blessings...
