Russia, The Ukraine, and The EU
2022-05-25

Dear Yeshua,

Wednesday, 25 May 2022, 8:11AM

In 2017 I discovered a new Friend and Brother (CB50), who is a fellow Seer. He is also a retired Officer from the Dutch Navy, and continues to reside in his native Netherlands.

What follows are copies of emails we exchanged recently.

I will let the contents of the emails speak for itself. I have made a few editorial changes which are indicated in (parens) and italics.

(...), how are things in the Netherlands these days?

Are you experiencing monetary inflation like here in the U.S.?

Any continuing COVID restrictions?

Hi j9,

Things can be worse in my country. Our government takes always the worst decisions, but somehow God is merciful to my country.

We have an invasion of people from the Ukraine and the government obligates all the communities to put them directly into a house. That is a problem, because we still have a great influx of refugees who also are obligated to get a house. But the inhabitants also have no house.

So now the priorities to get a house are

1. Ukrainians.
2. Refugees from all countries especially the muslim countries.
3. Normal inhabitants of my country.

Of course this gives frictions everywhere. We have the last 25 years not enough police persons. The inflation is very high. But I do not know the figures and do not want to know it. We have no official corona restrictions, only self imposed by certain hospitals and like. We have so few IC (beds) in the hospitals that we were the only EU country in a lockdown the last half year. Per inhabitant in Germany, our neighbor, they have 5 times more IC (intensive care) (bed) capacity per inhabitant. In my country they say it's too expensive.

But in fact it is going very bad in the Netherlands, although the blessing of the Lord. Because of the corona I estimate over all the churches one third has left the church. Although here and there are positive things, but on a tiny scale. Hope they help to turn our country into the good direction.

My thoughts are that maybe Putin will invade Europe is a great possibility. I have seen maps and within a few days they can be here in my country. They can occupy Austria, Germany, parts of Denmark, Belgium and the North of France rather easy. Not many mountains and my country is as flat as a pancake. I really think not as a Seer but with my mind this is a good possibility. But nobody does want to think about it and says that it is not true. They are used to the peace since 1945.

Hope you and your wife are doing well,

Hi, some more to almost laugh...

What almost nobody knows is that we do not have tanks any longer. The few ones we have are in Germany on a lease-contract...

The following also almost no-one knows. The commander in chief of the Dutch army is a German general. The Air Force and Navy I do not know, but am almost certain from the navy it's a Dutch admiral.

If you like I can share some info about the Russian - EU tensions. It's not what the governments and the mainstream media promote. What I mean is that our prime-minister is the real cause of the invasion of the Ukraine. He is in his 4th term now and constantly accusing the "Russians" from many things. Because of him every time there have been more sanctions against Russia for decades, I think.

In 2016 we the people had a referendum whether we would like to have the Ukraine as EU-member. 2/3 voted against a membership. But our prime-minister knew better. So he decided that my country wanted Ukraine into the EU. If he had listened to us, the people, then the Ukraine would have stayed a buffer state between Russia and the EU. And Putin would never have invaded the Ukraine.

The downed MH17 in 2014, a poison murder in London some years ago and so on, always caused by the Russians. For decades at least 2 times a year it were the "Russians" who committed some crime, (according to our prime-minister and later other EU presidents).

Putin once said that he would be very glad if he had the power to commit only half of all these crimes.

Greetings,

OK,

Tomorrow I 'll have time for it.

It's not what you can find in Wikipedia. I am no fan of one of the different parties. I always strive to be objective and put everything into a good perspective.

Bye for now.

Russia - Ukraine - EU Part 1

The following is not as a Seer but with my mind. In the beginning of last year I came to a full stop. The Lord did not want me to work as a Seer any longer. Nor seeing futures or whatever. Also not praying for countries. Only allowed to pray for a few special people. So this is where I am at this moment.

The following is what I remember and is different from the Dutch and EU narrative. Including Wikipedia and the Western mainstream media.

There has been a lot of turmoil in the Ukraine around 2014. The NATO and the US created protests and riots in the Ukraine, so the president, Janoekovitsj had to flee. After him an EU puppet was chosen and in 2019 Zelensky, another EU puppet, became president.

Prime minister, Mark Rutte. He is the biggest liar of all Dutch politicians, but still in power...

But for decades the EU was imposing sanctions against Russia. Every half year they prolonged them and added some more. The big initiator behind the scenes was/is our Prime (Minister).

Also for decades more and more Western troops gathered close to the Russian borders. More or less it is a build-up of troops. On the borders of Poland, Romania and other former East-block countries. Although we put more and more troops close to Russia, we accused every time the Russians to behave aggressive against us. While there were hardly any Russian troops nearby ours.

Three Baltic states were a playground for different nations including Russia, but since 1991 they belong to the EU and the NATO. So in the Russian view the West is coming close.

With the loss of the East-block countries the West is more and more heading to Russia. But there still is a buffer zone because of Belarus and the Ukraine. Although a small part of Russia, namely Kaliningrad is encapsulated by Poland and Lithuania. (But it is very important for Russia because this area has one of the very few harbors that do not freeze. So here they have a big naval fleet.)

Since a few weeks also Finland wants to become a NATO member. Until now it was neutral, although being an EU member. So this way the West is again heading to the Russian border.

Russia - Ukraine - EU Part 2

The MH17 tragedy.

On July17, 2014, Flight MH17 went from Amsterdam to Kuala Lumpur with 283 passengers and 15 crew members. 196 were Dutch nationals. This plane crashed above Ukraine with all passengers and crew killed. It was somewhere in the Donbass region, the East of the Ukraine.

In this Donbass region the people are pro-Russian, very much more than the rest of the Ukraine.

Within the hour of the crashed MH17 the US president AND our prime -minister Mark Rutte told the world that it was done by the Russians. They knew even before any research what happened?

Some time later it was said the plane was downed by a BUK-missile, fired by Russian in the Donbass region.

I remember I was intrigued by such a catastrophe, while we almost never experience things like these in my country. I started a website dedicated to the people of the MH17 and collected information. Everything I discovered I put on my website.

There were very many controversies with the official narrative, I remember. About a year later the official research started by the Netherlands, helped by some other nations. The leader was a very trustworthy person, a Dutch prince, who had been doing like things before.

After maybe a year and a half or so the official report came out. I read it, it was very thick. But the outcome was of course, the plane had been downed by a BUK-missile, above the Donbass region. It hinted that it was probably fired by pro-Russian forces.

But this report only mentioned what they liked. Almost nothing, except all kinds of calculations how the BUK missile did detonate just before the plane. After that the shrapnel went through the plane. And it was finished.

I think this prince got problems with his conscience, because he never did investigate anything any more after this report. He always was honest until this official narrative of what happened.

“The plane was downed by a BUK missile at a height of 10 kilometers.”

-Because of I have been a weapons (and electrical/electronic) officer in the Navy I know how guided and other missiles behave. After the tragedy I watched the pictures of it on Google. But I could clearly see that it was not due to a guided missile.

I remember on the pictures it was no shrapnel but holes of machine guns. In the material bullets had ripped from outside to the inside and from the inside to the outside in the same metal parts of the hull of the plane.

I also saw big holes in parts of the plane hull, from the inside out. As if something from within had exploded.

I found these pictures very interesting, but it was late, so I decided to download them the next morning. But Google discovered their mistakes, so all these “wrong” pictures were removed the next day when I wanted to download them.

-I saw pictures from the spot where these BUK-missiles were launched. They need 2 trucks. But on these very spots there were no tracks of trucks. So two days later out of nowhere there suddenly were pictures of the “launching Spot” with the necessary tracks.

-When it happened it was a bright afternoon, sunny without any clouds. A BUK missile makes a huge white smoke trail behind it. It should have been seen by anybody in the area. I read about 15 to 20 reports from eye-witnesses. But no-one had seen any smoke from whatever missile.

Of course these eye witnesses were not mentioned in the official report.

-The people and remains of the plane were spread over a large area. But the eye witnesses who were there said it was very strange. All the bodies of the people were intact. Not as if they dropped from 10 kilometers high. It looked like they were laid in this position. All of them also mentioned that most of the people looked as if they were already dead for some days. They also smelled awful as if being dead for some time.

Of course this was not within the official report.

-Many parts of a plane are very heavy. When falling from 10 kilometers high they should have been almost buried in the ground. But I saw the engines, the most heavy parts, were laying nice and flat on the top of the earth. Not halfway under the top level. It looked very much as if everything had been arranged before. And everything neatly positioned on top of the earth.

Of course this was not mentioned in the official report.

There were so many more things not normal for a plane crash...

After some time I was warned the government was “interested” in me because of my website. I immediately took it down and erased it. Just in time...

Someone I know was doing the same and did not erase his website. He was fired from his work and never got any job after it. He now lives without a home and breaks into empty houses to stay there for some time. He begs for money. He is no Christian.

I think this all was to accuse the Russians from evil things. It looks like brainwashing. Continually and over decades accusing the Russians from doing evil things.

I think a lot of people really belief that.

What really happened with flight MH17 will probably remain a mystery.

On Dutch, Western and Russian websites I said that the best way for all of us is to make Russia part of the NATO. Then we have a great future, we can use each other's strong points and help each other. Then we have a bright future, instead of killing each other and hate and condemn the other. And the problems with the Ukraine are easily solved.

But what do you think? No-one agreed with me. Very frustrating...

(...), I am saving all of these reports, to be used in my next Letter.

Before I post it on my website, I will send you private link for your review, and you can let me know to add or delete anything.

I will wait until I get as many parts as you want to send in order to complete the Letter.

Please know that I am in your debt for this unique viewpoint.

Many Blessings,,,

ok

But you are not in any debt, I like to do it. Yes it takes time, but I can nowhere express what I think or see.

At this moment when I share a little bit about the Ukraine, nobody believes me. So much brainwashed are the people nowadays.

Also the Christians. I expect my brothers and sisters to think for themselves and to be able to discuss about these issues.

But this is really changed the last few years. I mean, in my country we always talked with each other until we reached a certain standpoint. It took some time, but we listened to each other. These days not any longer. There is only one way, that from our government or the authorities and the mainstream media.

Real discussion is almost not possible any more. If you have a different point of view you are cast out of the persons/groups with the "correct/political" point of view. You are no more allowed to work with them and many times kicked out of the "correct" team.

This is a big change in my country and I do not like that.

What I write is not really in chronological order, although I try it. But the way I write it down is how I remember these things.

Many greetings,

Russia - Ukraine - EU Part 3

Several items.

-First a remark about the MH17 tragedy. I remember that the coffins with the killed bodies in the aircraft crash stayed closed. Nobody was allowed to look into it to say farewell to their loved-ones. In the beginning there was a rumor, but that was silenced very quick.

When I saw the pictures of the dead bodies on top of the earth they looked very much intact. There was not even a pool of blood, like when you jump from a skyscraper. And this was from 10 kilometers high! All these bodies were placed very nice on the ground. So why then not show them to the relatives?

-Something else I now thought about. When you believe in the great tribulation and the leader of the ten nations in the book of Revelation, then president Macron from France is a great choice.

He is a good worker behind the scenes. He was the first one to negotiate with Putin about the Ukraine. France is one of the countries with their own nuclear missiles. He is working very hard to get an EU-army, apart from the Nato. (Maybe the countries of the 10 kings?) Macron is also a former Rothschild banker and is not very happy with the muslims. Also not with the many in his own country and in the suburbs around Paris.

-An invasion of the EU by Russia is a good possibility. They are able to accomplish it. What they use now in the Ukraine is old equipment, old tanks and hardly trained troops.

I think Putin is not interested at all in an US invasion. But he will not leave the Ukraine as the western leaders hope. When he really should withdraw his troops, then Putin would very soon be killed by his own people and replaced.

-Today I read that a lot of the Ukrainian refugees in my country want to go back to their country. Although they often get a house and schooling for the children, they do not feel very comfortable here doing nothing at all. And this is very positive for these Ukrainian people, that they want to work themselves and not live from the receiving citizens for a long time. Because almost no refugees from muslim nations want to go back to build up their own country.

-In my country a lot of Russian news websites are blocked. We are not allowed to read this so-called "fake-news"! But they forgot to block the oldest one: Tass.
