Dear Dan,

Well, by now you have been made aware of the website www.letterstodan.com.

I had ZERO desire when I started these letters to put them out on the internet, but the Lord changed both my heart and mind on that. Not with a flash of revelation or some brilliant idea. No, I was just sitting in my office one day working on the (Z5) website when I started to wonder if it was possible to buy the LTD URL. So I did a "WHOIS" lookup, first with "letterstodaniel.com", but that was parked at some link-farm wanting to sell it. So I tried "letterstodan.com, and it was available! Then I thought; "Well, the Lord has preserved that URL for this purpose". So I bought it right away.

Then, since I was still tinkering around, I wanted to see if I could build a website using iWeb. That really didn't work so well with the hosting company I went with. So, I then tried something called RapidWeaver, and "letterstodan" was born.

I just now added a Dreams & Visions page. New dreams and visions will be added as they occur.

The audio versions are still being worked on, a little at a time. But eventually I will get caught up.

Hope you and household are OK.

Blessings...

R. C. Theophilus
