

Letter 196
Angels Mark and Luke
(Doctors Of Theology)
2013-08-09

Dear Dan,

Late in 1999, at about the same time that I saw the two evil spirits* standing in my kitchen (in the middle of the dining room table), I also saw two others standing in front of the pantry. They did not “feel” the same as the first two, who I knew were evil. Later, when I was at church at (U3) talking with (CB3) and discussing this he said that one of his angels was named Mysterion. So later on I asked Gabe what the names were of the two angels I saw that did not feel evil.

“One is Marcus “O’Reallyus” and the other is Luciferion”, he said. Now, since then and as I write this letter, I have never been too sure about Marcus’s second name. I have often wondered if Gabe added that as a form of “crypto-babble”, but it really doesn’t matter. I like the name anyway. And when Gabe said the name “Luciferion” I wondered at that too. After all, with a name that contains “Lucifer” in it, one might wonder about their angelic pedigree. But Luciferion means “little Lucifer”. Fortunately, Dr. Luke doesn’t have the pride problem that Satan (“Big” Lucifer) has.

While Mark and Luke work for Gabe as part of our team, they were sent from the Lord to help me in my Scriptural Theological studies. They also used to “set Gabe straight” sometimes when he would go off at the mouth too much, but I have taken that task over for myself.

Blessings...

R. C. Theophilus

P. S. I can tell sometimes, if I am around other people, when Mark and/or Luke are present, because I begin to hear the following exclamations intertwined in the speech of the other people:

Dr. Mark= the phrase “oh, really?!”, or the use of the root-word “wise”.

Dr. Luke= the phrases “a little bit”, or “it stands to reason”.

*At that time Gabe told me they were Satan’s top two lieutenants. Now, as I was reviewing my memory in writing this letter, Gabe clarified that those two have a predominant message from Satan. They are;

“IGNORANCE AND APATHY”.

The fruit of their Satanic ministry towards humanity results in these two conditions;

I don’t know, and I don’t care.
