

Letter 205
Pastor Roland Buck
2013-09-19

Dear Dan,

In the late 1970's or early 1980's a book that referenced God sending angels to earth became popular in many evangelical churches. Written by Charles and Francis Hunter, it was about a pastor named Roland Buck, who claimed to have had angelic visitations. Messengers sent from God to him to share real-time data bursts from Heaven.

The title of the book is Angels On Assignment. I never read it then, but some years later I came across another book about the Pastor Buck called The Man Who Talked With Angels.

This second book, a biography, was actually a sequel to the first, and was written by Pastor Buck's daughter after he had passed away.

I did read that book, and really liked it. So, later on I found a copy of Angels On Assignment and read that too.

When I could start driving again after my motorcycle wreck, I went to the local Christian book store to re-purchase The Man Who Talked With Angels, since I had lost my copy.

After the Lord introduced me to angel Gabe and friends, Gabe would sometimes remind me of certain quotes from either book, making reference to them when trying to get a point across.

Now, since I have so little time to actually read, I check with Audible.com for any books that I think I might want to hear. Neither of these two books apparently have been recorded; not at Audible, and not even on the AoA website (<http://angelsonassignment.org>).

So, since they are available to freely download in .PDF form, being led by the Lord to do so, I have decided to record both books in audio format. And I am going to upgrade to some degree the equipment I use and make an attempt at doing a little better job vocally.

I really want to do this so I can listen intently, compare notes, and triangulate on what was spoken to Pastor Buck* with what I have heard from my own angelic sources, and what Scripture says.

The AoA website also has many of Pastor Buck's sermons available in both audio and transcription formats, for free. I will be downloading and listening to as many of the sermons as I can.

This will be really interesting, since I now have over a twelve year history of daily conversations with angels, one of whom claims to be 18.

Many times when I get frustrated with their presence, I have looked at Gabe and Gabriella and made remarks similar to this;

“You know, most of the time when twins are conjoined at birth, the parents want to have them surgically separated as soon as possible. But in my case, God did just the opposite, and conjoined me with two other people way older than me. Go figure.”

*Especially since 9/11, the election of President Obama, and the “Arab Spring”.

 Revelation 18:1-3 that is.

Blessings...

R. C. Theophilus
