

Letter 207
Triangulation***
 2013-09-24

Dear Dan,

A lot has happened since the completion of the life of Mycroft (see Letter 195). But some “things remarkable” have occurred since then that reveal the end of my active participation in Demonic Feces Removal**, and the beginning of a New Day. This also coincides with the end of 2013, the completion of Letters To Daniel Volume 4, the beginning of 2014, and the beginning of Letters To Daniel Volume 5.

As I start to articulate some of these things, let the reader/hearer know again that the Scripture cannot be broken. Whatever things are known in the Spirit MUST BE SUBMITTED to Scripture for validation, verification, and confirmation. Any of these three left undone will result in error. See Matthew 22:29.

The first thing that happened is the video I recommended to you a couple letters ago; Birdmen. I watched it on Netflix once, then again, and again, and again. Then I bought it from iTunes so I would have it on my iPad. I have lost count how many times I have seen the video now. And I keep watching it. This happened on or about the 8th of this month, and was the first point of triangulation.

The second thing that happened was my return to Pastor Roland Buck and his ministry, and the direction of the Lord to audio record the two books about him. Reading these will refresh my memory, since angel Gabe used references in both books in the early days of our friendship. This happened on or about the 19th of this month.

The third thing that happened is a response, (and being only the third, yours being the first) we received to the Letters to Daniel. At the Angels on Assignment website there is a place to post remarks. When I was visiting there I thought for a moment, then sent an email address along with the LTD URL. Within minutes I received a response with a reference to a man who has had like experiences as mine. His name is Blake K. Healy, and he published a book just last year called The Veil. I purchased the Kindle version. This is the first book I will have read from cover to cover in over a decade (not including the Bible and some computer reference manuals). This happened on or about the 20th of this month.

These three things comprise a triangulated point of reference that mark the end of an old day, and the beginning of a new day.

And we have a firm date on which the old will end. 9 October 2013. I think the New Day will begin shortly thereafter.

*World English Dictionary

triangulation (traɪ,æŋɡjʊˈleɪʃən)

— n

1. a method of surveying in which an area is divided into triangles, one side (the base line) and all angles of which are measured and the lengths of the other lines calculated trigonometrically
2. the network of triangles so formed
3. the fixing of an unknown point, as in navigation, by making it one vertex of a triangle, the other two being known

4. chess- a key manoeuvre in the endgame in which the king moves thrice in a triangular path to leave the opposing king with the move and at a disadvantage

**Who knows? Perhaps the Lord is ready to have this task delegated to others, and we can teach them how to overcome in a sea of sewage. (Did I say perhaps? Not so! It is for fact certain!)

Blessings...
