End Game - Parts 1-5
Supporting Data
 2016-08-11

Dear Dan,

8 August 2016, 6PM.

Over the past couple of weeks the Lord began informing me of some further details that both support and confirm my testimony.

I will list them first in bullet point fashion, and then explain all the points as I am led by the Lord.

- 1. Angels on Assignment:
- 2. Angel Gabe Mentions Iraq:
- 3. Operation Desert Shield and Operation Desert Storm:
- 4. Iraqi No-Fly Zone:
- 5. Where Satan's Throne Is:
- 6. Operation Iraqi Freedom:
- 7. Operation Intercession:
- 8. Operation Isolation:
- 9. Operation Silent Desert:

1. Angels on Assignment: excerpts from the book, quoting Pastor Roland Buck, as written by Charles and Francis Hunter (1979).

"Michael said, until the appointed time, our task is not to destroy Satan, but to scatter the forces of darkness, to hold them in abeyance, to overcome them and to keep them from God's people. Then he said, I have an assignment that I am anxiously awaiting where I am not going to have to show respect for Lucifer any more. That assignment is to sweep the heavens clean of Satan and every single one of his angels. We will not leave even one!"

2. Angel Gabe Mentions Iraq: See Letter 35a Volume 1.

"Then he began talking about Abrams Tanks being used in Iraq during Desert Storm, and the tactics of digging tanks in for cover and concealment. And he made a reference of stowing MRE rations in the cargo pockets of the camouflage BDUs that were then still being issued in the U. S. Army."

3. Operation Desert Shield and Operation Desert Storm: (from Wikipedia.com)

The Gulf War (2 August 1990 – 28 February 1991), codenamed Operation Desert Shield (2 August 1990 – 17 January 1991), for operations leading to the buildup of troops and defense of Saudi Arabia and Operation Desert Storm (17 January 1991 – 28 February 1991) in its combat phase, was a war waged by coalition forces from 34 nations led by the United States against Iraq in response to Iraq's invasion and annexation of Kuwait.

4. Iraqi No-Fly Zone: (from Wikipedia.com)

In 1991, the United States, United Kingdom, France, Turkey, and other states intervened in Kurdish-Iraqi dispute in northern Iraq by establishing a no-fly zone in which Iraqi aircraft were prevented from flying. The intent of the no-fly zone was to prevent possible bombing and chemical attacks against the Kurdish people by the Iraqi regime. The initial operations were dubbed Operation Provide Comfort and Operation Provide Comfort II and were followed by Operation Northern Watch.

From 1992 to the United States-led coalition invasion of Iraq in 2003, there were two NFZs in Iraq. The NFZ in the north of Iraq was established shortly after the Gulf War, extending from the 36th parallel northwards. In August 1992 the NFZ in the south to the 32nd parallel was established,[3] but in 1996 it was expanded to the 33rd parallel.[4] The northern NFZ was initially part of Operation Provide Comfort relief operations to a persecuted Kurdish minority in Iraq, and was followed on by Operation Northern Watch. The southern NFZ was maintained by Operation Southern Watch.

When Operation Desert Storm ended in 1991, the safety of Kurds who were fleeing during the uprising from Iraqi persecution became an issue, and Operation Provide Comfort began. This operation essentially created a Northern NFZ to Iraqi military aircraft. The operation provided the Kurdish population with humanitarian aid and reassurance of safe skies.

However, this was marred by a friendly-fire incident on 14 April 1994 when two United States Air Force F-15 Eagle fighter planes mistakenly shot down two United States Army Blackhawk helicopters, killing 26 Coalition military and civilian personnel.

Operation Provide Comfort officially ended on 31 December 1996. Following Operation Provide Comfort, the United States continued to watch over the northern skies with the launching of Operation Northern Watch on 1 January 1997. Operation Northern Watch continued to provide air security to the Kurdish population in the north. By 1999, the Department of Defense had flown over 200,000 sorties over Iraq.[5]

5. Where Satan's Throne Is:

Letter 35b Volume 1 The Day of 7 - Part 13b

Where Satan's Throne Is 2016-08-11

"One time during the Day of 7, (see Letters 23 - 36 Volume 1), angel Gabe answered a question I had asked him about something in the Bible. My question, which I asked in late 1999 or early 2000, was whether he knew where Satan's throne was at that time. "Saddam Hussein" was his answer."

6. Operation Iraqi Freedom:

The Iraq War[nb 1] is a protracted armed conflict that began with the 2003 invasion of Iraq by a United States-led coalition. The invasion regime toppled the government of Saddam Hussein. However, the conflict continued for much of the next decade as an insurgency emerged to oppose the occupying forces and the post-invasion Iraqi government.[50] An estimated 151,000 to 600,000 or more Iraqis were killed in the first 3–4 years of conflict. The United States officially withdrew from the country in 2011 but became re-involved in 2014 at the head of a new coalition; the insurgency and many dimensions of the civil armed conflict continue.

The invasion began on 20 March 2003, with the U.S., joined by the United Kingdom and several coalition allies, launching a "shock and awe" bombing campaign. Iraqi forces were quickly overwhelmed as U.S. forces swept through the country. The invasion led to the collapse of the Ba'athist government; Saddam was captured during Operation Red Dawn in December of that same year and executed by a military court three years later. However, the power vacuum following Saddam's demise and the mismanagement of the occupation led to widespread sectarian violence between Shias and Sunnis, as well as a lengthy insurgency against U.S. and coalition forces. The United States responded with a troop surge in 2007 to attempt to reduce the violence. The U.S. began withdrawing its troops in the winter of 2007–08. The winding down of U.S. involvement in Iraq accelerated under President Barack Obama. The U.S. formally withdrew all combat troops from Iraq by December 2011.[51]

The Bush administration based its rationale for war principally on the assertion that Iraq possessed weapons of mass destruction (WMDs) and that Saddam's government posed an immediate threat to the United States and its coalition allies.[52][53] Select U.S. officials accused Saddam of harboring and supporting al-Qaeda,[54] while others cited the desire to end a repressive dictatorship and bring democracy to the people of Iraq.[55][56] After the invasion, no substantial evidence was found to verify the initial claims about WMDs. The rationale and misrepresentation of pre-war intelligence faced heavy criticism within the U.S. and internationally.[57]

In the aftermath of the invasion, Iraq held multi-party elections in 2005. Nouri al-Maliki became Prime Minister in 2006 and remained in office until 2014. The al-Maliki government enacted policies that were widely seen as having the effect of alienating the country's Sunni minority and worsening sectarian tensions. In the summer of 2014, the Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant (ISIL) launched a military offensive in Northern Iraq and declared a worldwide Islamic caliphate, eliciting another military response from the United States and its allies. The Iraq War caused hundreds of thousands of civilian, and thousands of military casualties (see estimates below). The majority of casualties occurred as a result of the insurgency and civil conflicts between 2004 and 2007.

7. Operation Intercession:

Letter 40 Volume 1

Inside The Gates Of Hell Part 3 - The Spirit Speaks 2011-11-16

"One day during lunch, as I was sitting getting ready to eat, I was moved to think in this fashion. "Since I feel so bad, like death warmed over", I thought to myself; "Why don't I just go all the way and intercede on behalf of those who are unable to repent?" "I doubt I'll feel any worse for it."

8. Operation Isolation:

Letter 213 Volume 4

It Expires On The Ninth 2013-10-02

"The Spirit said to the Devil; "I DON'T WANT YOU IN THE HOUSE . GO OUT TO THE BACK YARD AND STAND BY THE TREE"
