

Letter 278
Astoria, Oregon - Part 2
Enter The Witch
2014-09-29

Dear Dan,

As a kid I really enjoyed walking. When I was old enough my folks would let me walk alone around the block where my Grandparents apartment was, and even all the way up the hill to the Astoria Column. It was on one of these walks that I discovered a playground that had a swing-set. After that one of my shorter walks would be up to the playground to play on the swing. It was at that time that I began to have imaginary conversations with other thoughts in my head. What I didn't know then and for a long time after was that I was actually communicating with "Spirit People". I would swing back and forth for what seemed a long time and have interesting thoughts enter my mind, not really knowing their source, thinking the thoughts were my own imagination.

When we took the trip to Astoria in September of 2000, I visited the apartment building and the playground. It was then I discovered that the playground was part of a Catholic School complex across the street.

On this trip, as we drove by the playground on our way up to the Column, the Lord specified that one of the Spirit People who was communicating with me as a young boy was none other than "The Dominatrix" of whom God spoke against in Letter 236. In the Catholic system she is also known and worshipped as "Mother Mary" (see also Letter 105 , Volume-1a).

The same "thoughts of submission" carried over when I visited my mom's mother's house where I had first discovered my aunt's Ouija board. Now as I think about it I'm pretty sure that The Dominatrix was the primary angelic "handler" of the demonic Spirit of Lust that I was delivered from in Letter 3a when I was twelve.

I pretty much outgrew the influence of The Dominatrix by the time I had turned fourteen. Add to that the spiritual connections the Lord made between Himself and me in 1973, through the knowing the Scriptures and His Power, and that put an end to her sexual overtures toward me.

But after I married (M) in 1985, the attacks of The Dominatrix began to return due to her control in and through the life of my father and mother in law. I will go into further detail concerning this in a future memo.*
