

Letter 319
Letter 184 Revisited
 2015-03-01

Dear Dan,

A little while before the Lord revealed the Prince of Witchcraft at my mother-in-law's home (see Letter 24 - Volume 1), and we had a sort of normal relationship, I discovered a book in her library. It is a book of quotes by famous Americans.

As I perused the pages I found two quotes by Abraham Lincoln that I really liked. Please allow me to relay one of the quotes, my most favorite of the two;

"I shall try to correct errors when shown to be errors, and shall adopt true views so fast as they shall appear to be true views"...I intend no modification of my oft-expressed personal wish that all men everywhere could be free."

(Excerpt from a letter to Horace Greeley. 22 August 1862)

Wednesday, 25 Feb 2015, 6:00AM. Last night at work angel Gabriel pointed out that there were some errors in Letter 184 Volume 4 (Two Towers, Two Parties, Two Judgments. One Salvation. 2013-05-07). He also said that it is the only letter that contained any erroneous theological statements on my part.

According to Gabriel, the error started in the fourteenth paragraph that begins with the phrase;

"But there is more than that."

The words following this line were based on theological thoughts that I have since revised. Gabriel observed that I had written this part, the "opinion" part, when Satan's attacks against my person were about to reach their apex, and was therefore the subject of extreme duress.

Gabriel asserts that 9/11 was not a judgment from Jesus. Rather, it was Satan taking advantage of the loose and lax security measures in both the Church and the United States at that time. 9/11 was a work of the Devil. Jesus kept it from becoming worse than it was intended to be. There actually is "more than that," but from a different perspective, which will be documented later.

I changed the title of the letter to "9/11 Revisited," and left the first part intact.

Blessings...

R. C. Theophilus
