DREAM
"I Got This"
2016-01-09

Dear Dan,

Friday 8 January 2016, 6AM.

Earlier this week on Wednesday morning I received an email from (CB41). He was saying that he was hearing that "we should do a prayer of thanks giving for the Lord stopping the plan of the enemy."

I emailed back that I thought it was a good idea, and that I would call him. Not long after that I went to sleep.

Just before I woke up I had a dream. This dream left me feeling like I had been "run over by a Mac truck".

I DREAMED THAT:

My angels and I were part of a football team, being members of the senior coaching staff. Our team had been scheduled to play for a Championship Title against another team. We had arrived at the stadium and were gathered in a club house next to a football field, waiting for the opposing team to arrive.

After the other side showed up to the field, their coaches reported to the guest clubhouse. Then they made a phone call to our club house to confer about game details such as start time, etc.

But after a few minutes on the phone a disturbance broke out with many of the opposing team members. They had heard that one of our Football Team staff members had been a Wolverine in High School. One by one the team members of the other side left the field and refused to play. After a little while all that was left of our opponents were the coaching and training staff.

The Championship Game was then determined by the Officials to have been forfeited by the opposition, and the Championship Trophy went to our team by default.

We won the Championship Title without even having to play the game.

The reason for this was that the players of the other side were so scared of The Wolverine that they preferred losing by forfeiture than being beat by our team on the field.

After things calmed down and we began to realize that had happened, angel Gabe started to walk down a hallway to an office that had a phone. I went to follow him, but he looked back at me and, discerning my desire to assist him in what he was doing, said:

“NO. I GOT THIS.”

Knowing that Gabe meant that only he could make that call, I stopped where I was. While he was making the call, the Gift of Knowledge informed me that he was calling the Vatican. I also knew that part of the Championship Title that we won was the Office of Pope.

Angel Gabe was calling the Vatican to inform them of their loss, and that they had to relinquish the Title of Pope immediately, and surrender all the authority of the Pope to us.

Then, I realized that “The Wolverine” on our team that the other side was so afraid of was me, because I had worked for 5 years as the Chief Night Custodian at Bellevue High School, home of the Bellevue Wolverines AAA Football Team.

It also became clear to me that many of the people of the Roman Catholic Church would want me to become their new Pope. Then I awoke.

END OF DREAM.

After I woke up I felt like I had been run over by a Mac truck, and I was troubled all night at work.

As I was making myself breakfast and getting ready for work, I began to tell angel Gabriel that I didn’t agree with the Office of Pope, that it was unscriptural; a product of erroneous doctrine and religious traditions. So I really wasn’t interested in being made Pope at all. Gabriel agreed with my assessment.

Now, here are two supporting real-world pieces of information relating to this dream.

The first item is that when I first became friends with angel Gabe in 1999, he used to tell me that he had been stationed at the Vatican for the decade prior to my birth, from October 1948 to October 1958. What he was doing there for those ten years we have never talked about to this day.

The second item has to do with a High School Football Team named The Wolverines. A quote from the Seattle Times will describe in better terms than I can why this is important.

Bellevue pulls off shocker, beats De La Salle 39-20

By Matt Peterson

Seattle Times staff reporter

They made history last night at Qwest Field. Jaw-dropping, awe-inspiring history.

In a high-school football shocker of national proportions, the Bellevue Wolverines absolutely dismantled the country's top-ranked team, De La Salle of Concord, Calif., sending the mighty Californians home with a thorough 39-20 beating in front of 24,987 at the second annual Emerald City Kickoff Classic.

Bellevue's victory laid low the Spartans' high-school record 151-game win streak — a streak that dates to the start of the 1992 season — and instantly lifted the Wolverines to a position of national prominence.

"I don't think words can describe how I feel," said senior center Jordan Hebert. "This is the best feeling, definitely, that I've ever felt."

A movie was made of the De Le Salle team and their loss to Bellevue. Titled "When The Game Stands Tall", it stars Jim Caviezel as the Le Salle coach. Mr. Caviezel is a Roman Catholic, and played Jesus in the movie "The Passion Of The Christ."

It is not clear to me at this time just how all these details work together, but I know they are important.

Blessings...
