

Letter 436
Jesus On Politics
 2016-01-18

Dear Dan,

Sunday, 17 January 2016, 5AM.

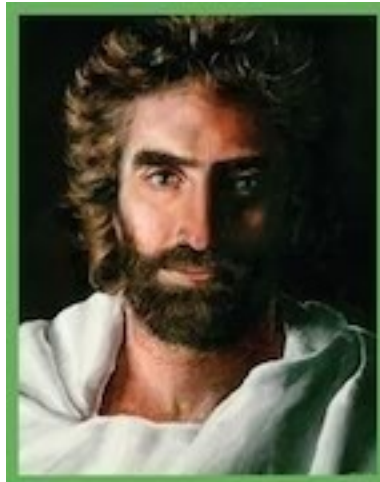

I was watching the Hannity show on TV last night on the FOX network. On the show Sean Hannity was interviewing Ted Cruz, one of the political hopefuls trying to win the nomination as the Republican Party candidate to run for President of the United States.

I personally have been favorable toward Donald Trump. I like his no nonsense approach to being an American, and his apparent lack of political-correctness. But as I was watching, an old news video clip showed Mr. Trump being interviewed in 1999. He was asked about abortion, and he shared his personal opinion that he didn't like abortion, but he also wanted to have "choice".

With that remark by Mr. Trump I started to think to myself that I couldn't vote for him because I won't support anyone that supports abortion. Suddenly Jesus spoke to me and asked:

"WHAT WOULD YOU RATHER HAVE?
 A FORGIVEN DONALD TRUMP,
 OR A SELF-RIGHTEOUS TED CRUZ?"

At the same time that Jesus was speaking, He reminded me visually of His picture and His quote in LTD Volume 0. Here is is:

"I Am"
 "Forgiving The Sins of Abortion"
 "AND"
 "Removing The Enemy From The Land".

Hmmm. I thought for a moment and decided that the Forgiveness of God “trumps” everything else.

Now, that doesn’t mean I am required to vote for Mr. Trump. It does mean that Jesus sees His own forgiveness of others as a game changer when it comes to having an attitude toward people.

Maybe I should take His attitude for my own.

Blessings...

R. C. Theophilus
