

Letter 453
DREAM
“Look Mom, No Wings”
2016-03-19

Dear Dan,

I had this dream anywhere between 2000 and 2002, only a year or two after I became friends with angel Gabe (see Letters 25 and 27 Volume 1) . This is a dream that continues to be fresh in my memory.

I DREAMED THAT:

Angel Gabe and I were together in the cockpit of a passenger jet, about the size of a Boeing 737. Both the pilot and co-pilot had earlier become disabled, and when the aircraft began to fly erratically, Gabe and I made it to the cockpit to see if we could help. I knew Gabe could pilot the aircraft because he can do anything, or learn how to do anything really fast.

While I was watching him, I saw him move his hands across the overhead control panel so fast I couldn't really see what he was doing. But after he was done he turned around to me, and with a big grin on his face put both arms in the air, as if he was a kid going:

“LOOK MOM, NO WINGS”,

or something like that. For a brief moment he was showing off at his accomplishment.

But then we both took to the pilot seats, and with no trouble at all brought the jetliner in for a safe landing.

But I have never forgotten to this day that goofy grin on his shining, angelic face.

END OF DREAM.

Blessings...
