

Letter 462
The Childless And The Fatherless
2016-04-14

Dear Dan,

Thursday, 14 April 2016, 7AM.

I had another interesting experience at work last night. Not long after we started the shift I began to think about the New Jesus People movement (JP-2.0) that is currently being prophesied about, which was also spoken of at the Azusa Now assembly which occurred in Los Angeles this last Saturday.

While I was working, and listening to the audio of Azusa Now on YouTube, many thoughts began to occur to me how I could possibly adopt, en masse, the next generation of Jesus People, as my own Sons and Daughters.

I began to wonder about the logistics of such a thing; like how I would communicate this to the ones the Lord wanted to have hear. We came up with a variety of ideas, and my last thought on the matter at that time was to write a formal letter of adoption and post copies wherever the Lord might direct. Of course the draft of such a letter would come to you first. Then I left these thoughts when I went into an operating room to start cleaning.

Another worker, a young man by the name of (CB43), was also in there doing some stock work. He is new, and works second shift as one of the surgical assistants. I could tell from previous conversations we have had and by his demeanor that he is both diligent and trustworthy.

As part of my ongoing effort to set a more positive narrative between myself and other workers that I might spend time around, I asked (CB43) what his favorite music was. He started listing off a variety of music styles, and then mentioned classic rock. So I asked him if he listened to KZOK. He replied in the affirmative. Then He volunteered that he was a Christian, and that he liked Christian music.

“Bingo”, I went to myself, and began to share with (CB43) that I was a Brother also. We talked a little, and then I asked him where he went to Church.

He responded with the name of his church, which rang a bell. I said I thought I had visited their website not long ago, and then I asked him if he was familiar with Bethel Church in Redding.

Adam answered again in the affirmative, and began to volunteer that he knew someone who was attending the Supernatural School hosted at that Church.

As soon as he said that, the Lord moved me to say;

“I got something for you”,

after which I proceeded to write down the Letters To Dan URL on a slip of paper. Then I explained to (CB43) that the website was the word of my testimony.

We parted company at that point, and I spent a considerable part of the rest of the night wondering where the Lord was going to take this, intermingled with more thoughts on the logistics of spiritually adopting a bunch of newly saved young people.

But considering what I was thinking about in the minutes before this happened, the direction seems pretty obvious. I will let you know what transpires from this contact.

Blessings...

R. C. Theophilus
