

Letter 567
The Exit of (P7)
2017-01-29

Dear Jesus,
Friday 27 January 2017, 6AM.

This last Tuesday night when I got to work I was informed of a meeting at the start of shift. This was for the third shift workers in my department.

I was a little surprised to see the Director of the Department. Most of the time it is just the Supervisor and/or Manager that leads staff meetings.

Once all hands had arrived, the Supervisor introduced the Director, who was already well known by all.

The Director begin to explain to the staff that effective immediately (actually the day before), (P7), the Manager of the Department, was no longer employed at (G6). This was both sudden and unexpected.

I have gotten real good at controlling my outward demeanor, so I saved any response until the meeting was over. But I knew with this announcement that You had changed things in a very fundamental way at (G6), and for my own personal benefit.

Later when I started to clean in my area, I called (M) via Skype on my iPod Touch. I told her that I had some real good news to share, and then let her know what had transpired just an hour earlier.

We were both very happy together.

So, now I no longer have the inclination to cringe on the way out the door after clocking out at work, since whenever I would see (P7) passing in the hallway or something, I was always reminded of the insidious attack Satan was able to perpetrate against me through him. And I could never be too sure if he would try something similar in the future.

But in keeping with Your Word, I hereby declare (P7) to be forgiven, to be blest, and to be remembered by You. Amen.

Blessings...

R. C. Theophilus
