

October 13, 2016

To Whom It May Concern,

I've known [REDACTED] for several years and consider him to be a good friend. We met when he was attending services at Mars Hill Church where I served as a deacon and a community group leader. [REDACTED] loves Jesus and lives a godly life. I've found him to be open, honest, level-headed, and considerate of others.

When [REDACTED] introduced me to his Letters to Dan, I found his experiences recorded therein to be outside of my own experiences. However, I believe what he's recorded is true. I met Dan, the recipient of those letters, when he visited [REDACTED] in the hospital while I was there. We had a good visit and prayed together.

I believe when judging the beliefs and experiences of our fellow Christians we need to keep the following verses from 1 Corinthians in mind:

“Now there are varieties of gifts, but the same Spirit; and there are varieties of service, but the same Lord; and there are varieties of activities, but it is the same God who empowers them all in everyone. To each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good.”

1 Corinthians 12:4-7 ESV

Feel free to contact me.

Thank you,

[REDACTED]