To whom it concerns:

I am pleased to be a character witness for

I have rarely found anyone so persistent in pushing in to a greater experience with his God. I have never found anyone so disciplined in chronically his experience as in "Letters to Dan." I can depend on his observations to be sober and responsible.

His friendship has been refreshing and stimulating. I can recommend that his desire to contribute to others can be relied on.

May God bless your efforts to extend the Kingdom of God.

Respectfully,
